MORROW: Meet Your Coffee

A Premium Specialty Coffee Launch Strategy for India

Made with GAMMA

Premium coffee has become better—but choosing it has become harder

Unprecedented Choice

Origins, roast profiles, tasting notes, brewing methods—specialty coffee now offers more variety than ever before.

Choice Overload

This sophistication creates real friction for consumers who want premium quality but lack the expertise to navigate it confidently.

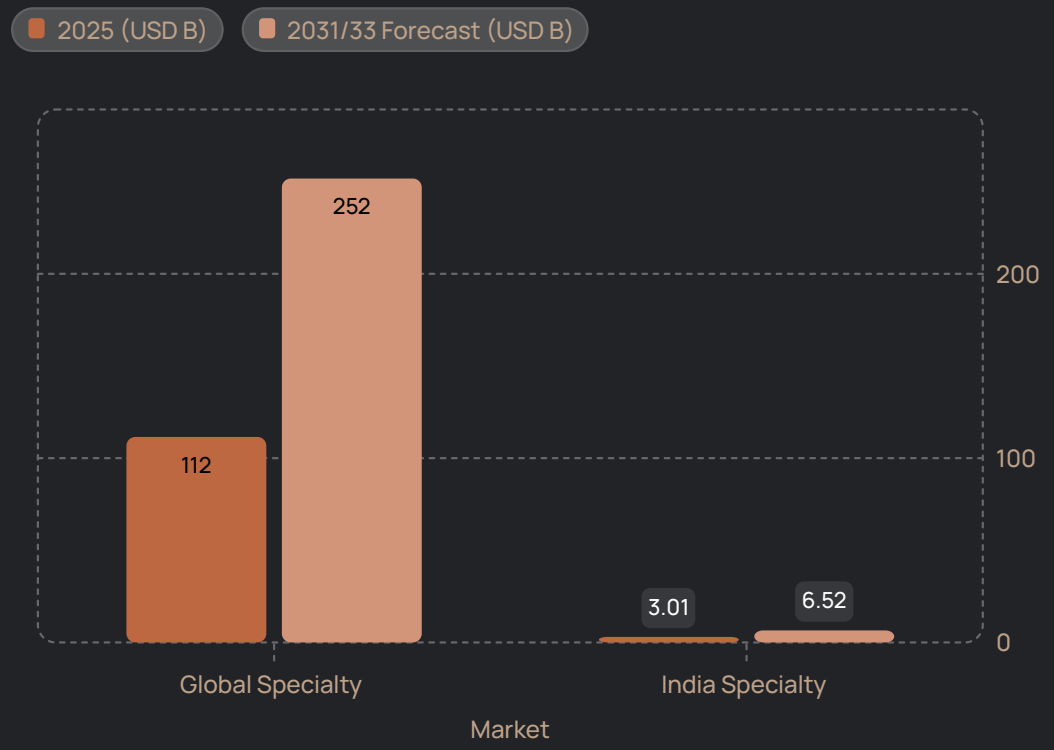

The Tension

More choice. More complexity. More barriers. Premium should feel rewarding, not intimidating—yet many consumers feel uncertain about what to choose.

The next premium coffee opportunity is personalisation, not simply premiumisation

Why Now?

The global specialty coffee market grows at 10.8% annually; India accelerates faster at 13.75% CAGR.

Younger consumers drive this growth. 69% of 25–39-year-olds in the US had specialty coffee in the past week. In India, millennials and Gen Z comprise 65% of specialty coffee consumers.

As specialty coffee becomes mainstream, brands that reduce knowledge barriers—not add more choice—will win the curious consumer.

MORROW is for the curious coffee drinker—not the coffee expert

Priya, 28 — Urban Professional

Willing to pay premium for better coffee. Values provenance and design. Enjoys discovering new cafés. Does not understand specialty terminology well enough to choose confidently.

"Help me discover a premium coffee I will actually enjoy—without having to learn the language of coffee first."

Arjun, 24 — Gen Z Enthusiast

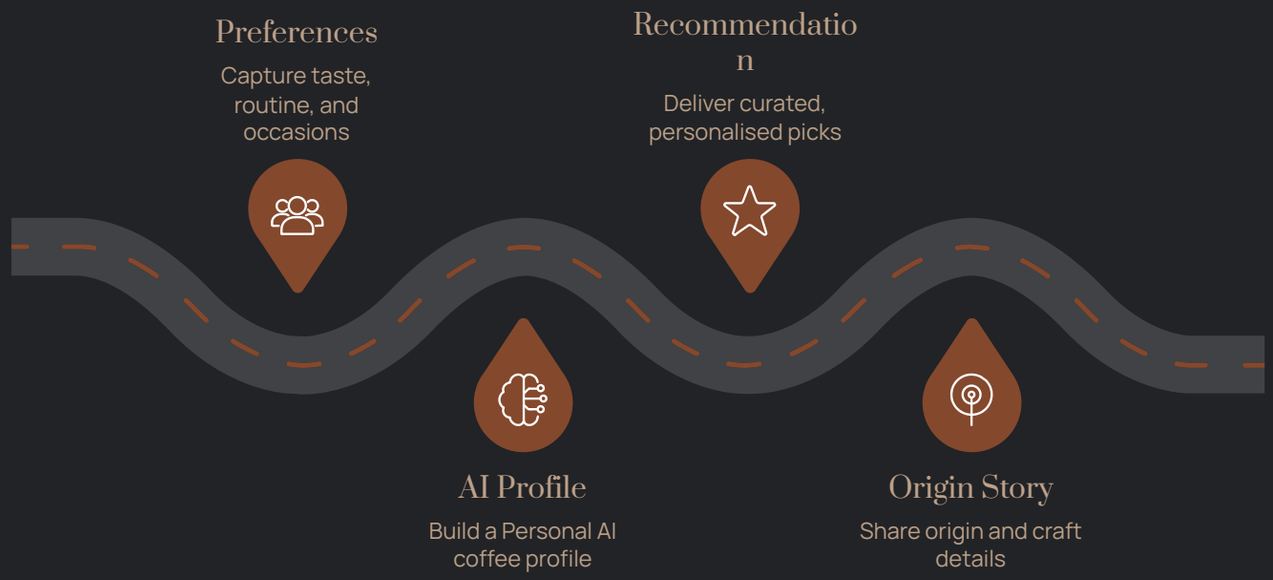

Curious about origins and brewing, overwhelmed by choice. Values social sharing and aesthetic experience. Wants great coffee and a story to go with it.

"Show me a coffee that matches my taste and mood—and tell me the story behind it."

These consumers exist in abundance across India's growing urban middle class. Digitally native. Experience-oriented. Underserved by today's specialty coffee market.

MORROW turns coffee expertise into a personalised discovery experience

Positioning: For curious coffee drinkers who want better coffee without becoming coffee experts, MORROW is the premium specialty coffee brand that makes discovery personal.

Personal

AI learns taste preferences, routine and occasion

Premium

Curated specialty coffees from high-quality Indian and global origins

Human

Every recommendation stays connected to growers, origins and craft

Simple

No intimidating coffee jargon required

Made with GAMMA

Launch MORROW by letting every customer meet their coffee before they buy it

1

The Hook

"You know your coffee order. But do you know your coffee?"

2

The Experience

A short AI-powered conversation asks about taste, routine, mood and preferences

3

The Profile

MORROW generates a personal Coffee Profile—roast, flavour, occasion, brewing method

4

The Recommendation

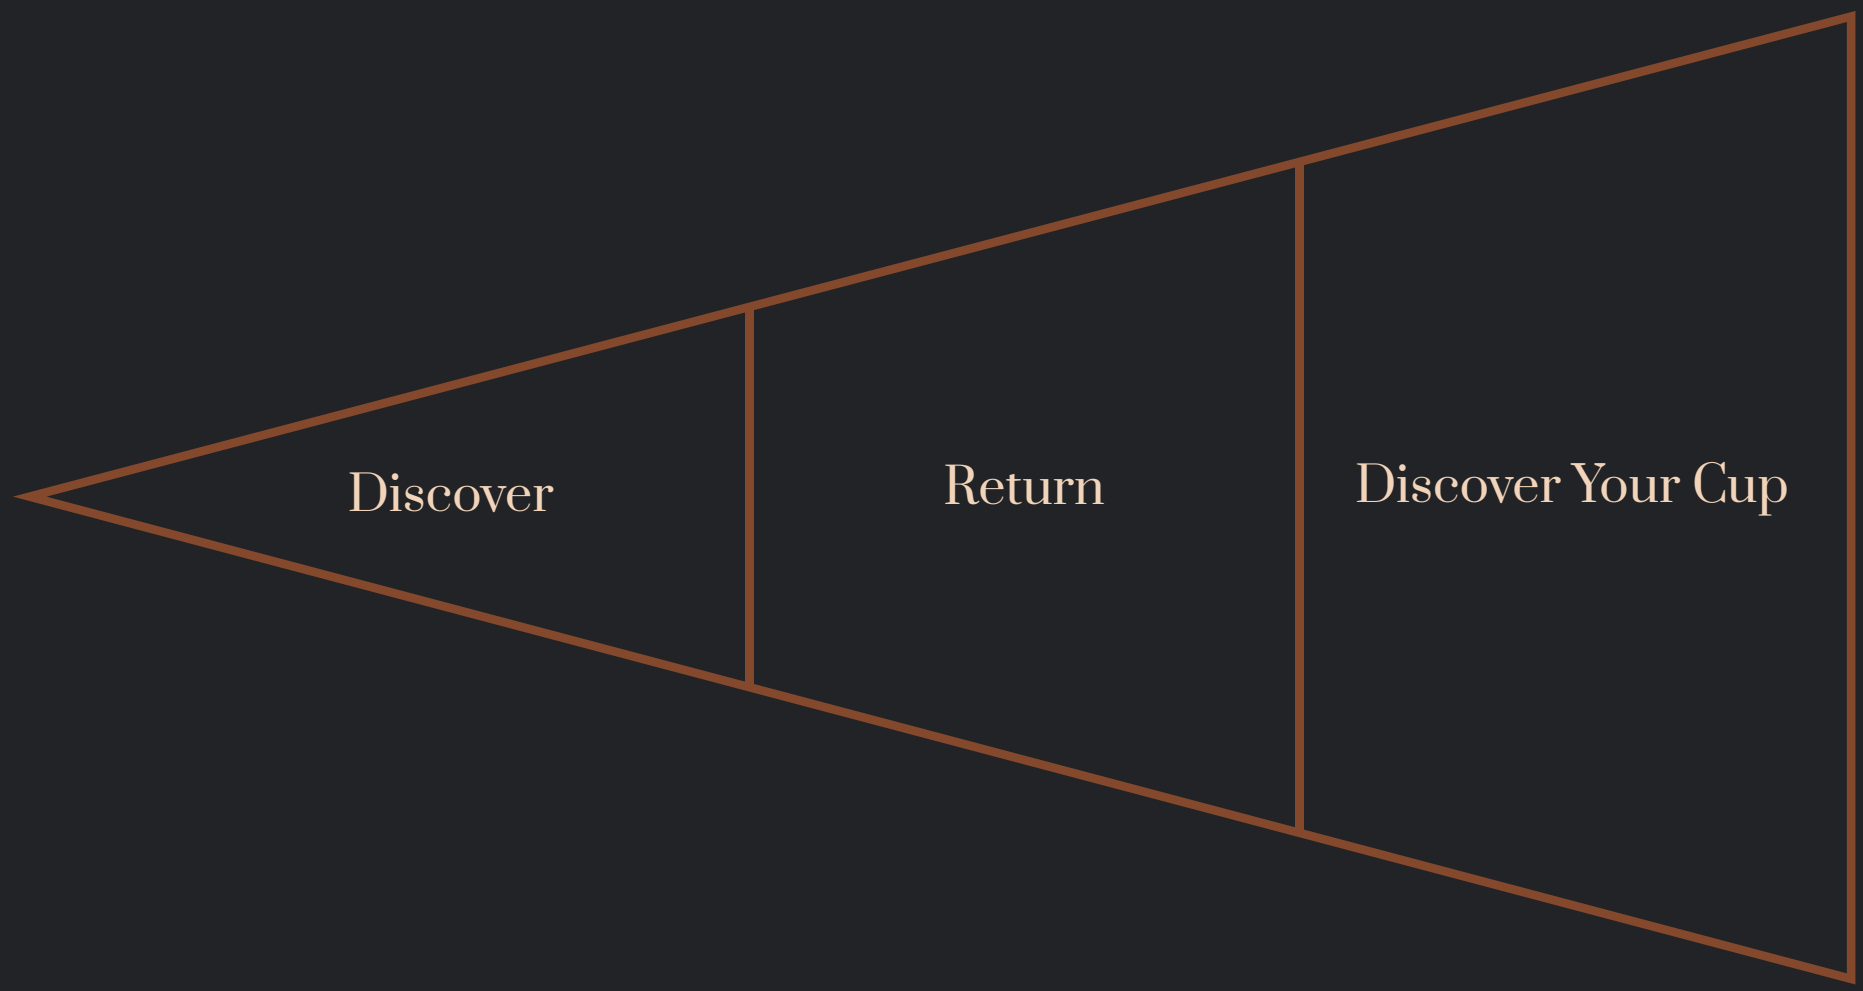

Their coffee arrives with its origin story. The profile evolves with every purchase.

Sample journey: Alice (28, slow morning) → balanced, nutty, low-acidity → Indian-origin pour-over → "Best for: your 9 AM slow start" → grower origin story. Tagline: "You don't need to speak coffee."

Made with GAMMA

Success means turning discovery into repeat coffee habits

6

Key Metrics

Meaningful measures that define MORROW's success

30

Day Window

First-to-second purchase rate measured within 30 days

60

Day Retention

Repeat purchase signal tracked within 60 days

Managerial insight: AI creates value only if it improves a measurable customer outcome. MORROW's success depends on whether the recommendation leads to repeat purchase—not on the sophistication of the algorithm.
